

Maximize Your Ministry's
Potential And Impact

Mary Lederleitner

Sophia Wang

A Bit About Our Backgrounds

Mary T. Lederleitner

Author of Cross-Cultural Partnerships

WOMEN IN GOD'S MISSION

Accepting the Invitation to Serve and Lead

What I Learned

- They often take great joy in seeing others shine and be in the spotlight.
- The really talented leaders often do not think it is about them.
- They realize it was a team and that it was the work of the Holy Spirit.
- They were often socialized to not look ambitious or to take public credit.

What Happens

- Many times the work of men gets highlighted and the work of women is hidden or less visible.
- Therefore, when ministry challenges arise, many people think of men as the catalysts for change and growth.
- And, indeed God uses men! 😊
- But, God also uses women significantly if they are invited to the table! 😊

Who Influences You?

Ministry Exercise

A Quick Look At History

- The Samaritan woman at the well
- Priscilla
- Lydia
- Phoebe
- The beginning of the evangelical movement
- The Bible Women
- Women's Bible Societies
(philanthropy & mobilization)

Our Goal Today

- It is not to change your theological position.
- It is to ask you to think creatively about how – given your unique theological context - God might enable women to help you address some of your biggest ministry challenges.

Innovation In Key Areas

Ministry Exercise

Final Thoughts

Contact Information

Sophia Wang (SWang@send.org)

Mary Lederleitner (mary.lederleitner@wheaton.edu)

Also many thanks to Wycliffe!

They contributed some of the beautiful photos for this presentation.

To see more of their resources visit:

<http://www.wycliffe.net/en/inspiringimage>